

Psalm 46

4. ⁷The Lord of hosts, doth take our part,
to us he hath an eye,
Our hope of health with all our heart,
on Jacob's God doth lie.
⁸Come here, and see, with mind and thought
the working of our God,
What wonders he himself hath wrought,
throughout the earth abroad.
5. ⁹By him all wars are hushed and gone
which countries did conspire:
Their bows he brake and spears each one,
their chariots brent¹⁶ with fire.
¹⁰Leave off therefore (sayeth he) and know,
"I am God most stout:
I will be praised of high and low,
even all the earth throughout."
6. ¹¹The Lord of Hosts doth us defend,
he is our strength and tower:
On Jacob's God do we depend,
and on his mighty power.

¹⁶ Burned or branded.
